WINTER 2016

Winter is the Best Time for Laser Treatments

The Los Angeles weather has finally changed and it's now the best time to laser away brown sunspots, wrinkles, and unwanted hair. Colder weather and a lower UV index is your skin's best friend when it comes to getting these procedures done. It's easier to recover discretely or stay away from the sun during the winter season. Plus, the shorter days help prevent hyperpigmentation which can be further worsened by sun exposure.

Listen Up: Dr. Rosenbach Talks About Skin Care and Music

Dr. Rosenbach is featured on a top rated podcast, Let There Be Talk, with comedian Dean Delray. This podcast usually focuses on interviews of musicians and comedians, but Mr. Delray had a recent skin cancer scare and wanted to talk dermatology with Dr. Rosenbach. Dean liked our playlist in the office, so Dr. Rosenbach got to chime in and discuss music as well. One warning --Dean's language is salty, to put it mildly. You can find the podcast on iTunes or Google Play --episode #303 of Let There Be Talk.

Products We Love: SENTÉ

We recently started carrying SENTÉ and believe in their science-based skincare products. SENTÉ research focuses on the science of Glycosaminoglycans (GAGs), master molecules that control skin health, aging, extracellular matrix formation and integrity as well as wound healing. They have a scientific approach that led to the creation of Heparan Sulfate Analog (HSA), a bio-engineered form of endogenously produced Heparan Sulfate (HS) that differs in size, shape and charge. SENTÉ products are the first and only line that contains HSA technology and are only available at our office, not in retail outlets.

To schedule any of the procedures mentioned in this issue of Skin Sense News, please ask for Julie Lopez, Dr. Rosenbach's Treatment Coordinator, at 310-556-5454. She will be happy to coordinate your treatment and our services. If you are interested in SENTÉ, please ask any of the office staff.
